Nigel Donovan

In 2000 I joined the Newcastle Speakers Club to improve my public speaking skills. Since then I have developed my skills and become a Critic for the Club.

Nigel Donovan, who was already an accomplished speaker when I joined the Club has developed outstanding speaking / presentation skills since then. He is especially good at organising and presenting his speeches in a logical and structured way, whilst focussing on the topic.

Another reason his speeches are enjoyed is his dry wit and sense of humour which he incorporates at appropriate times in most of his speeches.

He uses very few notes (if any) and can give a very enjoyable speech on a wide range of topics, whether the speech has been prepared by him or is delivered on an impromptu basis.

The ultimate compliment I can give Nigel (and I have heard this from other audience members, both at the Newcastle Speakers Club and in other business forums where Nigel has spoken) is that he incorporates a strong message in his speeches. That is, his speeches are memorable – invariably, the audience is given a clear and thought provoking message to take away and ponder.

There is no doubt in my mind Nigel has the ability to deliver speeches in a most professional way to any audience on any topic. The audience will enjoy the experience and will be entertained and informed.
